

The Wave Magnet design is all about function.

The template is a rounded pintail that will handle anything from chest high to double overhead with ease. The bottom contours are all about speed with a clean single to double concave that allows you to put this board on rail even in larger surf. The extra volume under the chest and relaxed mid-entry lets the Magnet glide over the ledge easily for that first exhilarating drop. You can feel the strength of the layup because this board has a bit of extra glass. We know it will end up in your travel quiver.

If you are looking for a confidence inspiring board and you want a bit more float, width and something that will make getting waves just that little bit easier then the Wave Magnet is the one.
